DOWN ON FREE SILVER

They Are Proclaimed as the Only Party That Favors Free Silver Coinage—Some Strange Delusions.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Oct. 22—The secretary of the treasury, Foster, made his first speech for the republicans in the Ohio campaign at the Wigwam in this city tonight. About 6,000 people listened to the speech and frequently interrupted the secretary with vociferous cheering. The secretary devoted some time to the dem-ocratic gerrymanders of the various states and particularly their scheme, newly in-troduced in Michigan, to elect presidential electors by congressional districts. If successful in Iowa, Onio and New York this fall they will introduce the same plan in those states. Thus, elthough those states give republican majorities of twothirds, the electors would be democrats Thus the solid South and Tammany hall, although largely in the minority, would rule the country under the forms of law. How long could free institutions endure

The secretary devoted much attention to the dangers of free and unlimited coinage of silver. His investigations lead him to believe that there is in European intries more than $200,000,000 in silver to say nothing of the thousands in Mex-South America that would come to this country the moment we were ready ta pay $1.29 per ounce for it.

We could not maintain ourselver against such an enormous strain and would soon be placed by the side of Mexico and the Asiatic countries," he said "with currency fluctuating in value and with an ever increasing downward tendency. Let no one delude himself into the belief that the world would not deluge us with silver.

The secretary said the republican party has, in his opinion, gone as far as pru-dence will permit in the matter of silver legislation. He has made in a quiet way a careful investigation of the feeling of foreign countries upon the subject of an international agreement between then and our country by which gold and silver upon some acceptable basis can be main tained at a parity.

"I have but little hesitancy in saying." he added, "that but for the feeling existing abroad that public sentiment in this country is such as to work for at least a better use of silver if not for a compen-sational agreement. The success of the democratic party in Ohio this fall means unlimited free coinage. It will be the piatform of that party in 1892, and the democratic success in the nation means that this country must go on a silver basis. Let us continue to pursue the republican policy of conservatism. Let us convince Europe that we are not going on the silver standard. My word for it, when Europe is con-vinced we will not adopt a policy of free and unlimited coinage, or in other words that we will not place ourselves upon a silver basis, we will be able to come to some agreement for the better use of silver, if not at once to come to an interna-tional agreement by which the parity of be maintained.

ecretary Foster dwelt at length on McKinley, citing statistics to refute the democratic assertions. He asserted that the first five years of the McKinley law will show an increase of more than one hundred millions paid in wages to our people with a corresponding home mar ket for the produce of our farmers. He Turning to the condition of the treas ury, the secretary spoke of the stories of the critics on the other side during the various payments could not be met, how bankruptcy, etc., and how their assertions had been refuted.

"By the conversion of the bonds," said enjoys the highest credit of any nation or the earth. We prevented the withdrawal of twenty-three millions of national bank notes, and, in fact, added nearly five millions of these notes to the currency. We have taken, and will take, $25,000,000 out of the treasury to pay the non-extended bonds, which, added to about $270,000,000 paid out forbonds by my predecessor, Mr. Windom, makes the enormous total of about $290,000,000 paid out of the treasury in cash since the administration of Pres dent Harrison began. With this money there has been and will be cancelled over $259,000,000 of the bonded debt, and not-withstanding all this we still have left a sufficient sum to disarm all fear of an empty treasury. It has been falsely charged that we instructed our subordi nates to delay settlements and in every conceivable manner avoided the paymen of money out of the treasury so anxious are they to convince the country of the extravagance of the billion-dollar con-gress. No such order was ever given and my subordinates will so testify. By at tention to the needs of the country we and South with small bills at cheap rates to the full extent of their wants and in a quantity perhaps double the amount ever

The secretary spoke of the unique system of bookkeeping made use of by the democrats when they had control of the treasury by which the treasury was shown to possess a much less sum of money than it had. "This method was changed to a system that is perfectly fair and intelli gible, and yet the critics charge me with the juggling of the figures. If the democrats could convince the people they are on the verge of bankruptcy, that the new industries, like the tin plate, cannot be made a success in this country, and that the treasury is bankrupt, they would be in the heaven of delight. The republican party preaches the doctrine of hope and not of calamity and despair. It does not

In conclusion Secretary Foster culo-gised the administration of President Harrison, and expressed his confidence in the election of Major McKinley.

Italy Arrainged From the Vatican-There is a Cloud of Trouble Arising Gver the Eternal City.

ROME, Oct. 22 -Interviews with eminent cardinals confirm the accuracy of the statements cabled a few days ago regarding the feeling at the vatican concerning the demonstration of French pilgrims at Palermo. In a talk with an Associated Press correspondent one of the an investigation made proves that the disorder of Oct. 2, was prepared and arranged in advance by the Italian government against the radical republican demonstration at Nice and against the pope. Under Secretary of State Sundand M. Garibadi, he asserted, arranged the conspiracy. The triple alliance was the conspiracy. Under Secretary of State Duleces informed of it and the approving of it was a reply to fetes at Nice and a direct attack upon the pope and pilgrims. It was desired as an affirmation of the monarchical rights against the French republic and against the statu quo at all mayors a circular letter in order to add weight to the manifestation.

The correspondent asked why so large a part of the monarchial and liberal world favored the cutrages upon the French pilgrims, and the cardinal replied that the government wished to give to the world an impression that Rome is opposed to the pope and that Italy will not have any reconciliation with France or any amicable understanding between the Vatican and the French republic. The demonstration was the result of the re-publican and democratic policy of the pope. Since the famous toast of Cardinal Lavigerie, said he, and the demonstrations at Cranstadt, all our official world, monarchial, liberal and sectarian, has been living in a state of trouble. It is felt its edifice is so laboriously erected to be cracking and threatening the ruin of all hopes. Everybody regrets the Pantheon incidents, but nobody has the courage to

"I do not yet know," said the cardinal, "he has caused a diplomatic note to be sent to the papal nuncios touching directly upon the real significance of the affair. He will wait for the public mind actor of the liberal manifestations, and when this work of preparation is accomplished, he will act."

The cardinal further said nothing has been yet decided as to the pope leavin Rome, but that everything is in readiness for such a step. At any rate the relations between Italy and the pope will be seriously modified. Leo is aware of the secret machinations of the triple alliance asked about the next conclave the cardiodus, but that recent events have caused long step in the idea of holding a conclave abroad.
